SPOT THE DIFFERENCE

Six changes on the ice

Look carefully. Circle the six differences in the bottom picture.

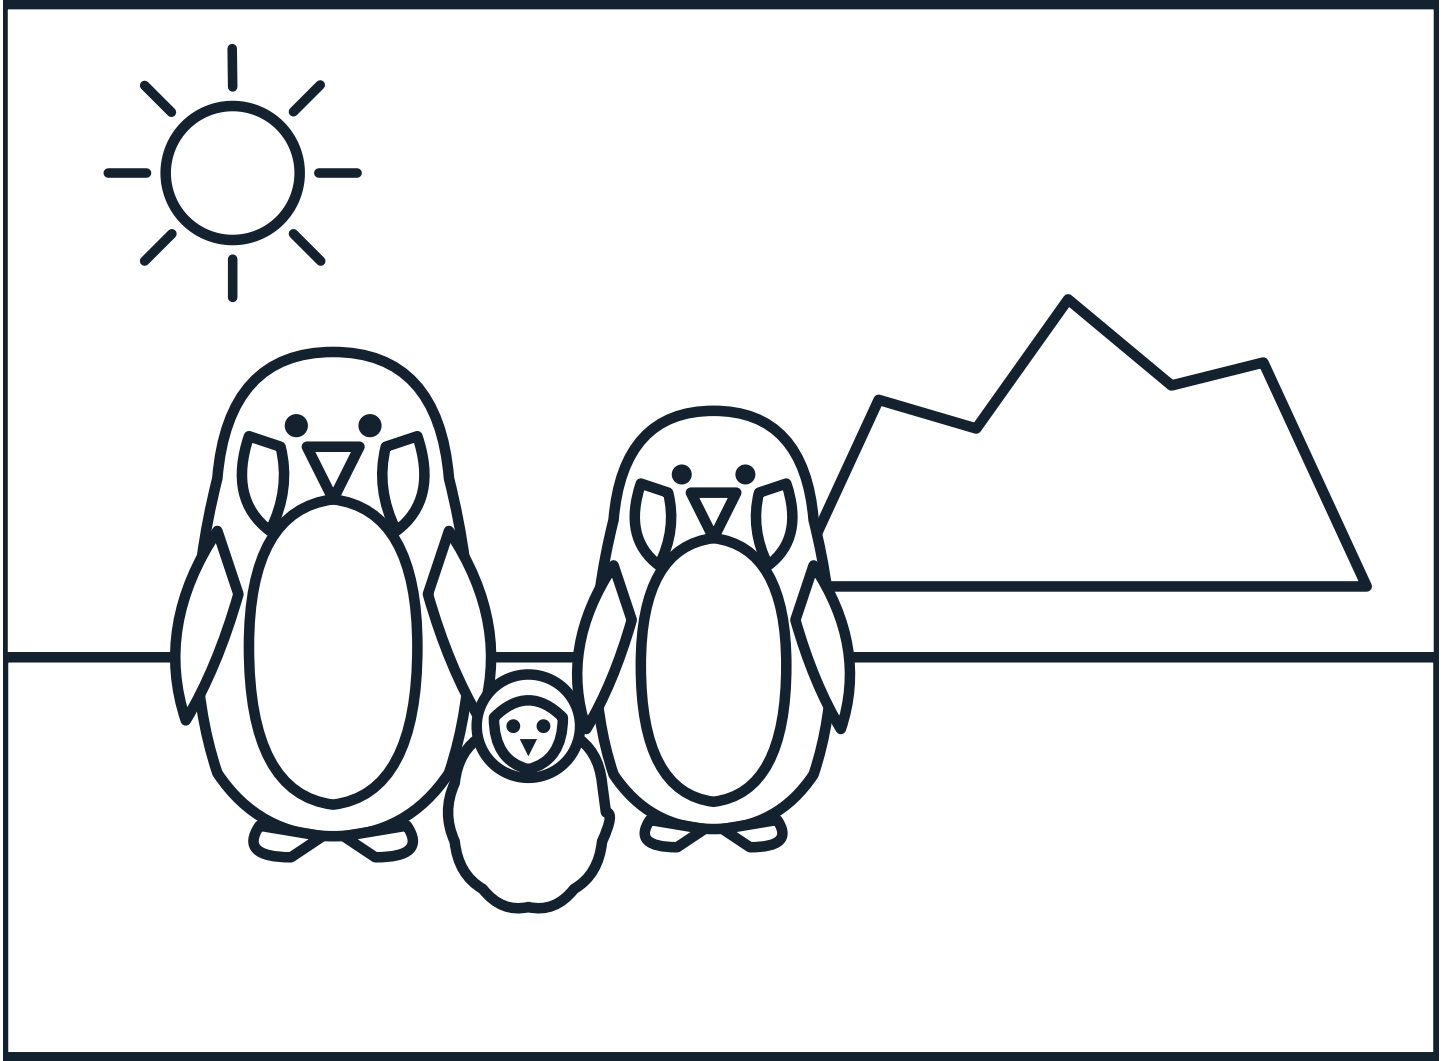

When both parents are away feeding, older chicks huddle together in groups called crèches. Parents find their own chick by its call.

COLOUR ME

The emperor family

Colour the emperors, their chick and the ice

Emperor parents share chick-rearing, but only the males incubate the egg. Emperor penguins don't just survive the Antarctic winter: they breed in it, during the worst weather on Earth.

PENGUIN FACTS POSTER

The penguin on the equator

Galápagos penguins, Galápagos Islands, Ecuador (NOAA photo).

Not all penguins live on ice

Galápagos penguins are the most northerly penguins, living on the Galápagos Islands on the equator.

Penguins are only found in the Southern Hemisphere. The biggest numbers are on Antarctic coasts and sub-Antarctic islands.

Galápagos penguin: Endangered on the IUCN Red List (last assessed 2020). Population trend: decreasing. (checked 27 Oct 2026)

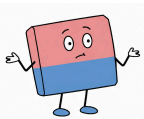

ANSWER KEY · FOR ADULTS

Spot the difference

1. The sun is missing
2. There is an extra fish
3. The chick has gone
4. The iceberg has an extra peak
5. A snowflake pattern has appeared on the ice
6. The small penguin is facing the other way

WHERE THE FACTS COME FROM

Every fact in this pack was checked against the source pages below on 27 Oct 2026. Facts that can change (Red List categories, population counts and records) are printed with that date. Where sources disagree, every figure is shown with its source. Answers to maths questions are worked out from those figures.
